Dear Mrs. Kane,

I came to the Mustard Seed on Monday and met you personally. I talked to you about the clothing drive that I organized and you said to write about it, so I will. I thought a clothing drive would be good for me to do because it would benefit the Mustard Seed, benefit the people getting the clothes, and help the people that are donating give away clothes that they don't want. The first thing that I did was research charities to donate to. I figured out that the Mustard Seed was the best place to give to. Then I made a flyer saying what it was for and the mission statement of the Mustard Seed. I handed them out to 32 houses in the neighborhood. I gave everybody about a week and then collected all of the clothes. It took almost 2 hours to collect all of the clothes. Then, with the help of my family, I sorted and folded the clothes. It took a couple of days. Every time I had a chance I sorted and folded. After I was done with putting the clothes into piles, I put all of the different types of clothing in each bag. Like baby clothes, children tops, adult bottoms, hats, shoes, etc. Then I labeled all of the bags. When my family and I were done sorting, we loaded the car, which took up the whole trunk and backseat, and then my mom and I took it to the Mustard Seed. The whole clothing drive was so much fun and I hope I can do it again some day.

Sincerely,
Logan Landry
