

I decided to collect clothes for my mitzvah project and give them to the Mustard Seed, but I didn't know how life changing it would be to give up my old clothes until I did.

When I first started to collect clothes, I was kinda like, "Let's just get this done and over with". Then, finding out how much the clothes were needed, I thought to myself, "Wow! I didn't know my clothes were needed THAT much!"

I now feel really good knowing a needy kid somewhere will have really nice clothes to wear.

Sincerely,

Samara Schwartz
